

Prime esecuzioni

II Edition (2025) - Kegelstatt

Call for scores

Overview

Prime esecuzioni (translated as “World premiere”) is an event by Bottega Sonora Project dedicated to new music. Through an open call for scores - with no limits on age, genre and geographic origins of its participants – the event aims to strengthen the connection between performers, audiences and composers.

The second edition (2025) will focus on unpublished works for clarinet, viola and piano, culminating in a concert in L’Aquila, Italy, in September 2025.

Participation in the call for scores is completely free of charge. There are no admission/participation fees for any documentation submitted or for the reception of audio/video recordings.

Admission criteria

DEADLINES

Scores must be submitted exclusively via the designated Google Form no later than July 1st, 2025.

There is no limit on the number of scores that each composer can submit, however, the organization is committed to encouraging a diverse pool of participants.

ANONYMITY

Scores received by the organization must be strictly anonymous. They will be promptly forwarded to the designated ensemble anonymously.

This is intended to encourage the utmost impartiality of evaluation and commitment by performers, and therefore avoid any potential bias.

ENSEMBLE

This edition is dedicated to unpublished works for the following ensemble:

- Clarinet (in B-flat and/or A)
- Viola
- Piano

Composers must submit works composed for this specific ensemble. However, pieces for solo instruments or involving only parts of the established ensemble are also allowed.

LENGTH

The duration of compositions may vary from a minimum of 3 minutes up to a maximum of 8 minutes.

SCORE REQUIREMENTS

Given the nature of the project, composers are required to maintain the utmost semiographic and lexical clarity, particularly when including gestural elements or extended techniques in the score for each instrument used.

Participants declare under their own responsibility that they are the sole copyright holders of the submitted works, which must be unpublished and never publicly performed. Bottega Sonora Project assumes no liability for disputes regarding the authorship of the works or violations of third-party rights.

Audio and video recordings made during the event will be property of the Bottega Sonora Project, and will be used for promotional and documentary purposes. Selected composers will receive copies of the recordings, which may be used for personal and promotional purposes, with the obligation to cite and acknowledge the event and original performers in any subsequent publication and/or distribution.

Selection criteria

Winning scores will be selected based on the following criteria:

- Adherence to the competition guidelines
- Executability and clarity of the compositional work
- Composer's commitment to attending the event in person

If a composition meets the stated requirements, the composer will be contacted by the organizers to officially confirm their participation in the event. Confirmation is crucial to ensure proper logistical organization of the event dedicated to first executions.

If necessary, additional selections will be made by the performers themselves, who, after receiving and evaluating every score anonymously, will be able to make final decisions impartially.

The event

The selected works will be performed in a public concert. The exact date and venue of the event will be announced only after the submission deadline.

During the concert, the names of the composers will remain anonymous until the end of all performances. After each piece is played, a brief moment of discussion between performers and audience will occur.

Only at the end of the event, the names of the composers will be revealed, and they will be given the opportunity to speak and share considerations, answer questions and receive feedback. If they wish, they may support their intervention with graphic or sound examples, and ask the performers to replay short passages, showing excerpts of the score or using a slideshow.

The onsite presence of the composer, whilst not mandatory, will be taken into consideration during the evaluation. For this reason, utmost seriousness is recommended. Any inability to attend the event must be communicated with adequate notice to facilitate proper planning for the event.

Collaboration and prizes

For the 2025 edition of Prime esecuzioni, Bottega Sonora Project will continue its collaboration with the Alfredo Casella Conservatory, as it represents the common feature in the academic training of all members of the organization.

Additionally, two important organizations of the music field - Identità Musicali association and the publishing house MEP (Music Ensemble Publishing) - have shown interest in the initiative and will offer two special prizes named after them.

The two established prizes aim to promote the work of composers and will be awarded at the sole discretion of the representatives of said sponsoring organizations.

- Baccano Prize, offered by Identità Musicali Association;

It consists of the opportunity to perform of one or more compositions during a concert featuring the Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's Trio K.498 (also known as the "Kegelstatt Trio" or "Skittle Trio"). The concert will be organized during their concert season in Francavilla al Mare, Italy.

- MEP Prize, offered by the publishing house Music Ensemble Publishing;

It consists of the opportunity to publish in the MEP catalogue one or more compositions deemed particularly deserving.
